The National Lawyers Guild:
From Roosevelt through Reagan

Edited by
ANN FAGAN GINGER
and EUGENE M. TOBIN

Foreword by Ramsey Clark

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY PRESS
Philadelphia
Contents

Preface xvii
Foreword by Ramsey Clark xxv

ONE The National Lawyers Guild and the Great Depression (1937–1938) 3

The Birth of the Guild, by Maurice Sugar 7
Organizing Lawyers to, Inter Alia, Pack the Supreme Court,
by Ann Fagan Ginger 9
National Lawyers Guild Constitution: Preamble and Article I 11
Wheeling and Dealing with the New Deal, by Morris L. Ernst,
Frank P. Walsh, and Franklin D. Roosevelt 12
Origins of the National Lawyers Guild, by Mortimer Riemer 14
Taking Hold of the Present: Who Joined the Guild? by the Editors 17

TWO Lawyers in the Struggle for Industrial Unions (1936–1940) 22

The Call for a Liberal Bar, by Robert H. Jackson 23
The New Deal Lawyer: Thomas I. Emerson and the National Labor Relations Board, by Thomas I. Emerson, with the assistance of Joan P. Emerson 24
Defending Unpopular Causes: The Danger of Contempt and Disbarment, by Edward Lamb and Robert H. Jackson 26
Civil Liberties and the NLRB—1940, by Nathan Greene 27

THREE Shadows of War and Fear (1937–1941) 30

The Third Annual Convention: 1939 in Chicago, by Ann Fagan Ginger 31
Contents

Resignations from the National Lawyers Guild, by Martin Popper 34
FBI Operations, 1940–1941, by Michael Krinsky, Jonathan Moore, and Ann Mari Buitrago 36

Four “V” For Victory over Fascism (1941–1945) 42
Statement of Policy, February 22, 1941, by the National Executive Board 43
The Participation of Negro Labor in Our War Effort, by Earl B. Dickerson 45
Discrimination and Racism Produce Riots: Harlem, Los Angeles, and Detroit, by The Guild Lawyer, Carey McWilliams, Alan Brown, and Ned Smokler 47
Harry Bridges, the Guild, and the FBI, by the Editors 51
The Guild’s Democratic Tax Program, by Joseph H. Crown 54
Rosie the Riveter’s Eight-Hour Orphans: The Guild Supports Child Care, by the Committee on Social Legislation, New York City Chapter 55
Calls for a United Nations Bar Association, by The Guild Lawyer 57

Five Moving Toward Peace, Jobs, Security, and Justice (1944–1947) 60
The Human Aspects of the Transition from War to Peace, by the Guild Committee on Post-War Planning 61
A Social Security Charter for Peacetime America, by the Guild National Committee on Social Legislation 62
The 1946 Convention, by Ann Fagan Ginger 65
Civil Rights Legislation from the Fourteenth Amendment to an Anti-Lynching Law, by W. E. B. Du Bois 68
The Morass of Reconversion: Understanding the Postwar Strikes, by Victor Rabinowitz 69

Six The End of the Grand Alliance (1945–1948) 72
A New World Born: The Guild at the Founding of the United Nations, by Martin Popper 73
The NLG and the FBI at the UN San Francisco Conference, by Michael Krinsky, Jonathan Moore, and Ann Mari Buitrago 75
Try the War Criminals Now, Lawyers Urge, by Martin Popper 75
War Crimes and Cold War Conspiracies, by Mary M. Kaufman 76
The International Association of Democratic Lawyers, by Martin Popper 79
The Jewish People and Palestine, by the Guild and Bartley C. Crum 80
The State of American Foreign Policy, by the Guild Committee on International Law and Relations 82
The European Recovery Program—The Martial Plan, by the Guild Committee on International Law and Relations 84

SEVEN  The Cold War Begins (1947–1953) 86
The Constitutional Right to Advocate Political, Social, and Economic Change—An Essential of American Democracy, by the Guild National Constitutional Liberties Committee 87
Harvard Law School Seminar on Civil Liberties (Spring 1948), sponsored by the Harvard Law School Chapter of the Guild 89
Report on Certain Alleged Practices of the FBI, by a Special Committee of the Guild, with an introduction by Michael Krinsky 91
The Keynote Address of the 1950 Guild Convention, by Clifford J. Durr 93
Cold War Foreign Policies Stir Internal Debate: Yugoslavia and Korea, by the National Lawyers Guild 94
The Rosenberg Case, by The New York Guild Lawyer 96
Loyalty to the Bill of Rights, by Delbert E. Metzger 98

EIGHT  Bread-and-Butter Issues (1947–1956) 100
The Availability of Legal Services—The Guild Position, by the Guild Committee on Professional Problems 100
Guild Student Chapters Address Bread-and-Butter Issues, by The Guild Lawyer and The Guild Law Student 102
The Thompson Case: A Real Life Bread-and-Butter Struggle, by Annie Stein 104
Vindication of the Guild Position, by The New York Guild Lawyer 106
Mandatory versus Voluntary Social Security Coverage for the Bar: The Last Obstacle to the Achievement of Social Security Protection for Self-Employed Lawyers, by Leo J. Linder 107
Guild Activity at Conference of State Bar Delegates, by The Guild Lawyer of California 109
Detroit Chapter Trains Lawyers and Fights for Comparative Negligence, by the Editors 110
The National Lawyers Guild versus Sexism: The First Step, by Ann Fagan Ginger 111

NINE Cold War against Lawyers (1947–1957)

The National Lawyers Guild in 1950–1951, by Thomas I. Emerson 113
Testimony of Robert W. Kenny before HUAC, October 27, 1947 114
Report on the National Lawyers Guild: Legal Bulwark of the Communist Party, by the House Committee on Un-American Activities 115
The National Lawyers Guild: Legal Bulwark of Democracy, by the National Executive Board 119
Loyalty and Lawyers, by Fowler V. Harper 121
Testimony of Ben Margolis before the House Un-American Activities Committee, October 1–2, 1952 122
The Trials of Harry Sacher and Abraham Isserman, by The New York Guild Lawyer 124
The 1954 Chicago Guild Convention, by the Chicago Red Squad 129
Testimony of Ruth Weyand before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, February 23, 1956 130
Schware, Konigsberg, and Independence of the Bar, by John T. McTernan and The New York Guild Lawyer 132

TEN The ABA and the Attorney General v. NLG (1953–1958)

FBI Activity and Executive Order 10450, by Michael Krinsky 137
Test Oaths: Henry VIII to the American Bar Association, by Samuel M. Koenigsberg and Morton Stavis 138
The American Bar Association, Attorney General Brownell, and the National Lawyers Guild in Time of Crisis, by the Editors, Lawyers Guild Review 139
Amended Interrogatories of the U.S. Attorney General Concerning Guild Activities in the Matter of the Proposed Designation of the National Lawyers Guild Pursuant to Executive Order No. 10450 141
Extracts from Briefs to the United States Court of Appeals in National Lawyers Guild v. Herbert Brownell, Jr., Brief for Appellant, by Osmond K. Fraenkel, Earl B. Dickerson, and Joseph Forer 143
The Leo Sheiner Case: No Disbarment for Use of Fifth Amendment, by The New York Guild Lawyer and Lawyers Guild Review 144
Living with a Subpoena, by Vivian Mandel 145
CONTENTS

Liberty and Peace: The Role of a Free Bar, by Malcolm P. Sharp 147
Report of the Administrative Secretary, by Jessica Davidson 149
Selecting Priorities for Guild Work While under Attack: The Ginger Strategy, by Leo J. Linder 149
The Guild Honors Defenders of the Bill of Rights, by The New York Guild Lawyer 150
A Testimonial to the Struggle for Civil Liberties, by The New York Guild Lawyer 152
The Justice Department Ends Brownell v. NLG 158
A Promise and a Prophecy, by the Board of Editors, Lawyers
Guild Review 159

ELEVEN  Moving from Victory to Affirmative Action (1958–1961) 161

The Role of the United States Supreme Court, by John M. Coe 161
Attack by Un-American Committee on Guild, by The Guild
Lawyer 163
Report of the National Lawyers Guild on the Recommendations of the American Bar Association, by the National Executive Board 165
The Guild and the Court: Mass Admissions and Amicus Briefs, by
The Guild Lawyer 166
Facing the Hard Realities: Chapter Pledges and Payments, by David Scribner 168
COINTELPRO, by Michael Krinsky, Jonathan Moore, and Ann Mari Buitrago 169
Leading Labor Lawyer Urges Fresh Start in Labor Legislation, by Harold Cranefield 171
Creative Legal Research, by Sam Rosenwein 172
The Central Thesis of the First Amendment: Oral Argument in
Who Won the Cold War, by Joseph Forer and the Editors 175

TWELVE  Civil Rights Moves the Guild (1961–1963) 178

Interposition Interposed, by Mitchell Franklin 179
Black People Don’t Have Legal Problems, by Edward A.
Dawley 182
A Cry for Help: Norfolk to Berkeley to New York to Detroit, by the Editors 185
Report on Initial Activities, by Committee To Assist Southern Lawyers (CASL) 188
The FBI Intrudes on Guild-ABA Relations, from the FBI 190
A Report of CASL, by George W. Crockett, Jr., and Ernest Goodman 191
Tributes and Deceptions in New York, by Charles McKinney, Hope Stevens, and the FBI 192
The Guild Publishes Its First Book, by the Editors 194
Albany Journal—Summer 1963, by Dennis Roberts 194
Lawyers Arrested at Guild Workshop in New Orleans, by the Editors 197
A Stormy National Executive Board Meeting in New York, by Ernest Goodman 199
Into the Streets of San Francisco, by the Civil Liberties Docket 202

THIRTEEN The Guild Goes South (1964–1965) 203

The 1964 Convention and the Mississippi Project, by the Editors 205
The FBI Meets with Some Civil Rights Organizations, by the FBI 206
The Goodmans and Schwerners Go to the Oval Office, with Martin Popper 207
Mississippi and the FBI Retaliate, by the Guild CLAS and from the FBI 209
Resolutions by the ABA and Mississippi Bar Association, by the Committee for Legal Assistance to the South 210
The Guild Looks at Its Budget, Closes, and Reopens, its Jackson Office, by the Editors 211
The Guild Goes to the Polls in Michigan, by the Guild Newsletter 212
The Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party Challenge, by Morton Stavis 212
Storming the Palace in San Francisco, and the Guild Response, by Paul Harris and the San Francisco Chapter 214
The Watts Revolt and the Los Angeles Chapter Response, by the Civil Liberties Docket and Leo Branton, Jr., Seymour Mandel, and Ben Margolis 216
Pondering the Future: Len Rosenthal, Claudia Shropshire, and Ben Smith, by the Guild Newsletter, the Editors, and the Subjects 218
Whose Rights? What Danger? by Michael E. Tigar 221

FOURTEEN Representing “Hell, No! We Won’t Go!” (1965–1968) 228

The Constitutional Right to Object to War, by the Civil Liberties Docket and The New Draft Law 230
The Guild Learns, Teaches, and Organizes Draft Law, by the Editors 232
Trying a Case under the Selective Service Law, by Ben Margolis 233
Special Problems of Black Draftees, by E. A. Dawley 234
Formation of the San Francisco Selective Service Panel, by the Panel 237
The Individual’s Duty under the Law of Nürnberg, by Mary Kaufman 239
Summing Up the Guild’s Role in the Vietnam War, by the Guild Convention, Samuel Neuburger, and Paul Harris 243

FIFTEEN Confronting the War at Home (1965–1969) 246
How Woman’s Work Is Sometimes Done, by Ann Fagan Ginger 247
Pioneer’s Reports on Poverty Law, by Simon Rosenthal 249
The Detroit Recorder’s Court and the 1967 Civil Disturbance, by George W. Crockett, Jr. 251
“What Did You Do in the Riots, Daddy?” by John Houston 255
A Debate on the Definition of “Radical Lawyer,” by David Freedman and Victor Rabinowitz 257
National Officers and Chapters of the Guild before the 1968 Convention 259
The Confrontational Convention in Santa Monica, 1968, by Joan Andersson, Dan Lund, David Rein, Bruce Waltzer, James Herndon, Norman Leonard, Rudolph Schware, and Fay Stender 261
Guild Lawyers at the Chicago Democratic Convention of 1968, by Dan Lund 266
Minimizing Racism in Jury Trials, by Charles R. Garry 267

SIXTEEN Movement Lawyers and Clients, and the Courts (1968–1976) 270
New Style Law Offices, by Anne M. Garfinkle and David Finkel 270
The Role of the Radical Lawyer and Teacher of Law, by Arthur Kinoy 272
You Don’t Have To Love the Law to Be a Lawyer, by Paul Harris and Gene Ann Condon 275
The Class Role of U.S. Courts, by Doris Brin Walker 281
The Guild Military Office in the Philippines, by Howard DeNike and Bob Hilliard 285
William O. Douglas: In Retrospect, by Leonard B. Boudin 289
Boycotting Wine on Interstate 99, by Barbara Rhine 291
The Shango Trial: The Lawyer, the Client, and the Jury, by Ernest Goodman 293
SEVENTEEN  Young Lawyers Take Hold (1970–1979)

The 1970 Convention in Washington, by Dan Lund
The President’s Analysis, by Doris Brin Walker
The 1971 Convention in Boulder, by Dan Lund
The FBI Blacklist of Bar Applicants, by the Editors
Practicing Labor Law, by Marijana Relich
The National Lawyers Guild as an All-White Organization, by William Goodman
Sketches of Guild Presidents Larson, Weinberg, and diSuvero, by the National Guild Banquet Committee
Limiting Access to Federal Courts, by Frank Askin
When the Defendants Are Foxes Too: The Need for Intervention by Minorities in “Reverse Discrimination” Suits like Bakke, by Charles Lawrence
Internal Struggles, by William Goodman

Mammon and Caesar, by Peter Weiss
Resolution on the Middle East, by the 1977 National Convention and the Middle East Task Force
The Right to Equality: A Marxist Analysis, by Barbara Wolovitz and Jules Lobel
Opposing Right-Wing White Supremacist Groups, by Fania Davis, Doris Brin Walker, Ann Fagan Ginger, and the National Executive Board
State of the Guild Speeches, by Paul Harris and Mary Alice Theiler
Handling My First Constitutional Law Case—1981, by Colleen Rohan
The Legal Right to Peace Demanded by Our Clients, by Ann Fagan Ginger

Rethinking Indian Law, by Steven Tuilberg and Robert T. Coulter for the Guild Committee on Native American Struggles (CONAS)
From National Committee to Combat Women’s Oppression (NCCWO) to Anti-Sexism Task Force, by Elizabeth Schneider, Patti Roberts, and Barbara Dudley
Looking Back and Looking Forward, by Gerald Horne and Doris Brin Walker

Economic Rights as Human Rights, by Ramsey Clark, Arthur Heitzer, Melinda R. Bird, and Sam Rosenwein

Waging the War against Union Security, by Barbara Kraft

Carrying Out the Guild Resolution on Fighting Racism in the Guild, by the 1979 Guild Convention

Sketch of People’s Lawyer R. Samuel Paz, by Roberto Velasquez-Rodriguez

The Status of Nuclear Weapons under International Law, by Elliot L. Meyrowitz

Civil Disobedience: Defenses That Keep Issues at the Fore, by Peter Goldberger

Guild Presidents Sound the Alarm, by Michael Ratner and Barbara Dudley

TWENTY The Future Lies Ahead (1984–)

Legal Services for the Poor, by Simon Rosenthal

Immigrant Rights and Sanctuary, by Susan Gzesh and Marc Van Der Hout

Respice, Adspice, and Prospice, by Haywood Burns, introduced by Leora Mosston

1980s Civil Rights Work, by Tom Meyer and Ann Noel

State of California v. Stephen Bingham, by Stephen Bingham

NLG Leads Battle at California State Bar, by the Los Angeles Chapter State Bar Committee

International Work, by the International Committee

The Priority of Work on Peace Law, by 1986 National Convention

Freedom Is a Constant Struggle, by the Editors

Looking Ahead, by Haywood Burns

APPENDICES

A: Guild National Conventions and National Officers

B: National Guild Journals and Newsletters

C: Winners of National Guild Awards

E: Books Published by the National Lawyers Guild

Index