The establishment of a perfect civil Constitution depends on the problem of governing the external relations among states through law

Immanuel Kant
Contents

EDITORIAL
The Environmental Transition and the Climate Movement
Climate Movement: What’s Next? Bill McKibben
A Carbon Dividend and Tax Reform Alberto Majocchi
The Contradictions of Environmental Policy: Which is It Has No Future Roberto Pala
Economists’ Statement on Carbon Dividends

COMMENTS
A Federalizing Union Enrique Barro Crespo
Unveiling Euroscepticism Michel Dézès
The Fall of the Berlin Wall 30 Years Ago Gary E. Shepherd
Heroinatus and Technology Control Fernando Iglesias
The ICC under Attack Yasmina Guarchane
Eulogy of David Held Daniele Archibugi
A Memory of Leone Ginzburg, 75 Years After His Death Giulia Saputo

FOEDERALIST ACTION
Reprints on Human Rights Defenders: Need for NGO Action Rene Wadlow
Call to Action on the Creation of a UN Parliamentary Assembly (The Guardian)
A Cosmopolitan Movement Against Global Warming Arises Among Young People Roberto Pala
The Integration Process and the Perspective of the United States of Africa Gianpiero Bordino
The Anti-mafia Seminars: a Success and a Starting Point Fernando Iglesias

BOOK REVIEWS
How to Fight Inequality Antonio Manconi
Where is the World Going? (and Europe ...) Michel Herland
The New Multi-currency International Monetary System and the SDR Future Bruno Mazzafer
A Carbon Tax to Fight Against Global Warming Roberto Pala

CONTRIBUTORS

Corte IDH
Gestión de información
y Conocimiento