The International Journal of Human Rights
Volume 23 Number 3 March 2019
Special Issue: Human Rights Monitoring and Implementation
Guest Editors: Andressa M. Gadda, Juliet Harris, E. Kay M. Tisdall, Elizabeth Millership and Ursula Kilkelly

CONTENTS

Editorial
317 Human rights’ monitoring and implementation: how to make rights ‘real’ in children’s lives
Andressa M. Gadda, Juliet Harris, E. Kay M. Tisdall, Elizabeth Millership and Ursula Kilkelly

Articles
323 The UN convention on the rights of the child: incremental and transformative approaches to legal implementation
Ursula Kilkelly
338 The general measures of implementation: opportunities for progress with children’s rights
Tara M. Collins
357 Children’s rights-based childhood policy: a six-P framework
Bronagh Byrne and Laura Lundy
374 The UN convention on the rights of the child, decentralisation and legislative integration: a case study from Wales
Simon Hoffman
392 Making children’s rights real: lessons from policy networks and Contribution Analysis
Andressa M. Gadda, Juliet Harris, E. Kay M. Tisdall and Elizabeth Millership
408 Child Rights Impact Assessment as a policy improvement tool
Lisa Payne
425 To incorporate the CRC or not – is this really the question?
Kasey McCall-Smith
442 A young person’s guide to defending human rights
Joel Meekison and Suki Wan

For more information about the journal and guidance on how to submit, please see www.tandfonline.com/hir

ISSN 1364-2987 © 2019 Informa UK Limited, trading as Taylor & Francis Group