

RIO

Reshaping the International Order

A REPORT TO THE CLUB OF ROME

Jan Tinbergen, coordinator

Antony J. Dolman, editor

Jan van Ettinger, director

A SIGNET BOOK

NEW AMERICAN LIBRARY

TIMES MIRROR

Contents

Chapter 1	The aims and scope of the report	1
	1.1 General introduction	1
	1.2 The layout of the report	2
	Part I
	The need for a new international order and the main problem areas	7
Chapter 2	From world disorder to international order	9
	2.1 The industrialized world: from cornucopia to Pandora's box	9
	2.2 The Third World: from deference to defiance	14
	2.3 The centrally planned nations: we do not live in a hothouse	16
	2.4 The need for a new international order	19
Chapter 3	The main problem areas	26
	3.1 Introduction	26
	3.2 The armaments race	26
	3.3 Population	28
	3.4 Food	30
	3.5 Human settlements	34
	3.6 Human environment	35
	3.7 International monetary and trading systems; concessional assistance	36
	3.8 Natural resources and energy	40
	3.9 Science and technology; transnational enterprises	43
	3.10 The oceans	45
	3.11 Outer space	46
	3.12 International institutions	47
	3.13 Planetary interdependencies	48
Chapter 4	Progress in negotiating the new order	53
	4.1 Some recent developments	53

4.2	The position of Western nations	59
4.3	The position of the centrally planned nations	63
4.4	The responsibilities of Third World nations	65
4.5	The way ahead	66

Part II

The architecture of the new international order; initiating and steering the process of planned change

Chapter 5	The aims and scope of development: towards an equitable social order	69
5.1	The fundamental aims of a new world	71
5.2	Guiding elements for the attainment of the fundamental aim	71
5.3	Towards an equitable social order: the need for new development strategies	74
5.4	Main components of new development strategies	75
5.5	New development strategies and the Third World	83
5.6	New development strategies and the industrialized countries	87
5.7	Progress to date; the experiences of the centrally planned nations	91
5.8	The need for a reinterpretation of national sovereignty	97
Chapter 6	Reducing the differential between the world's rich and poor	102
6.1	Introduction	102
6.2	Income disparities: the situation now	103
6.3	Prospects for the future: an illustration of the challenge	104
6.4	Summary: challenges emerging from the quantitative illustration	111
Appendix 1	Studies supporting the quantitative illustration	118
Chapter 7	Strategies of change	122
7.1	The means of change	122
7.2	The institutions of change	123
7.3	Steering the process of change: alternatives; second-best solutions; compromises	126
7.4	Changes in the power structure	129
7.5	The search for relevant ideas; the responsibilities of specialists	132

7.6	Public opinion in the industrialized countries; the task ahead and the need for information reforms	134
7.7	Adjustment policies	138
7.8	Legal aspects of the new international order; the need for a framework treaty	141

Part III

Proposal for action

Chapter 8	Proposals for change	147
8.1	An agenda for international action	149
8.2	Long range proposals: monitoring performance and organizing research effort required	149
Chapter 9	The international monetary order	152
Chapter 10	The international monetary order	155
Chapter 10	Income redistribution and the financing of development	159
Chapter 11	Food production	166
Chapter 12	Industrialization, trade and the international division of labour	173
Chapter 13	Energy, ores and minerals	179
Chapter 14	Scientific research and technological development	186
Chapter 15	Transnational enterprises	193
Chapter 16	Human environment	198
Chapter 17	Arms reduction	205
Chapter 18	Ocean management	210
Chapter 19	Packages for comprehensive negotiation	217
19.1	Introduction	217
19.2	Selection of priorities	218
19.3	Need for comprehensive packages	219
19.4	Packages and the international power structure	221
19.5	Priority packages	223
19.6	Time frame	230
19.7	Process of negotiation	230
19.8	Concluding note	231
Appendix 2	Summary of medium range proposals	232

Part IV

	Technical reports	243
Annex 1	The international monetary order Duncan Ndegwa and Robert Triffin	245
Annex 2	Income redistribution and the international financing of development James Grant and Mahbub ul Haq	261
Annex 3	Food production and distribution Sukhamoy Chakravarty and Maurice Guernier	279
Annex 4	Industrialization, trade, and the international division of labour Ibrahim Helmi Abdel Rahman and Helmut Hesse	297
Annex 5	Energy, ores and minerals Robert Gibrat and Tetsuo Noguchi	315
Annex 6	Scientific research and technological development Alexander King and Aklilu Lemma	334
Annex 7	Transnational enterprises Idriss Jazairy, Pieter Kuin and Juan Somavia	355
Annex 8	Human environment Ignacy Sachs	370
Annex 9	Arms reduction Inga Thorsson	387
Annex 10	Ocean management Elisabeth Mann Borgese and Arvid Pardo	402
	List of abbreviations	421
	Position statements of RIO participants	423
	Silviu Brucan	423
	Sukhamoy Chakravarty	423
	Robert Gibrat	424
	James P. Grant	424
	Maurice Guernier	425
	Mahbub ul Haq	425
	Helmut Hesse	426
	Idriss Jazairy	426
	Alexander King	427
	Pieter Kuin	428
	Elisabeth Mann Borgese	429
	Arvid Pardo	429
	Juan Somavia	430
	Victor L. Urquidi	431